Product Control, CFO Change, Financial Accounting, Tax, Group Finance, Shared Services, Portfolio Program Management and Technolgy Risk.

About the Program

Our 3-month internship program will provide you with formal financial markets, portfolio program management and Excel training, as well as on-the-job experience and mentoring. You will work as an analyst-level resource for one dedicated desk.

You will be assigned a Credit Suisse buddy who will provide you with additional support prior to, during, and after your internship. As well as undertaking an assigned deskspecific project during your internship, you will also work on a group project with other interns; this will help you build upon your project management, team collaboration and presentation skills.

The program offers opportunities to meet with senior managers, colleagues and peers at all levels across the bank. So you may gain insights into the bank, its culture, and build a professional network.

Your managers will work with you on an objective and review process, which will provide structure and an outline of requirements and goals throughout the placement.
